

Texas Black Women's Reproductive Justice Summit

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Who can attend?

A: Anyone interested in joining and allying to support a Black woman led RJ movement in Texas.

Q: Is the summit only for black women?

A: No. See previous question. Please note space is prioritized for Texas Black women directly impacted by reproductive oppression.

Q: What is the purpose of the summit?

A: Bring communities of faith and those working in women reproductive health, rights and justice together to use a Reproductive Justice framework within their communities that support women, their bodies, sexuality, gender, work, and reproduction. Welcoming and supporting this framework that encompasses bodily integrity and autonomy, that is a right to parent, not parent, and parent the children we have with integrity.

Q: What if I can only attend a particular day and will not stay for the duration. Is that ok?

A: Yes. You may register to attend via the website linked here. Simply, indicate in the memo box that you will only plan to attend the a particular portion of the summit. This is particularly of importance to attendees arranging lodging at the venue. See Q6 for more info on lodging.

*If you plan to check out early, we require that you notify us at least 48-72 hours in advance.

Q: I am a non-black woman of color, may I attend?

A: Yes! See above.

Q: Where is the summit and is their group lodging?

A: The summit is happening in Dallas, TX. The location has been kept private for the sake of safety and security. Once you are registered, the location will be provided in a separate email. Due to the safety and security of all summit attendees, we ask that you do not share any of the location details.
